

KiwiFlora our genetics • your growth

Ebony

LEUCADENDRON LAUREOLUM X SALIGNUM

Sought after for its distinctive, lustrous blackish-purple foliage, Leucadendron 'Ebony' is a must-have for any garden facing the peril of dry summers. Being a sport of the highly regarded 'Safari Sunset', 'Ebony' performs magnificently, producing masses of strong stems, topped with burgundy-red bracts surrounding the cone-like flowers, from late winter to early summer. An excellent cut flower (and cut foliage) plant and perfect specimen for a dramatic garden bed or a striking container. Plant in a sunny spot with plenty of air circulation and well-draining soil. Once established 'Ebony' requires only infrequent watering, however until well established will need regular watering. Tolerant of wind and coastal conditions. Evergreen.

SIZE	H 1200cm W 1400cm
BLOOM TIME	Winter / early summer
FOLIAGE	Blackish-purple, glossy
HABIT	Strong, upright, bushy
PROPAGATION METHODS	Cuttings
HARDINESS	Moderate tolerance
USDA HARDINESS ZONES	9a – 11ba
LICENCE	Licence available worldwide
PROTECTION STATUS	NZPVR30838; AUPBR5008; USPP23258